- On 14 March 1951, the southern section of the Peenemuende (N 55/P 83) airfield near Karlshagen (N 55/P 92) was reconnoitered. The former Handelsorganisation (Trade Organization) store building was empty. The store had been moved to the former barracks installation No 1. No other changes were seen in the quarters' area. Motor vehicles coming from

Ahlbeck (N 54/L 21), were seen.

Shortly before dusk two trucks, including an old ZIS with mounted searchlights, went from the barracks buildings to the landing field. These searchlights were used to illuminate the landing field at night.

- On 17 March, the field was observed from a point northeast of the outlying part of the Peenemuende farm. Two runways, one extending in E-W direction and the other in NE-SW direction, were seen on the field. The runways were as dark as their surroundings. No hangars were observed. Four MIG-15s, two fighters with in-line engines and two biplanes were parked on the edge of the runway. (3) All of the aircraft were covered with tarpaulins. There was no flying because of hazy weather. The landing field, as far as discernible, was surrounded by a wire mesh fence. A radio mast with at least two guy wires and two huts were seen at the northern point of the isle east of the right edge of the runway.
- About 50 laborers of a Bauunion enterprise were removing debris near the old V-weapon plant, located between Koelpien Lake and Peenemuende. a rolling mill was to be constructed there. (4) Sections of army huts with Russian inscription were stored in the area. About eight to ten additional barracks buildings, each about 8 meters square, were set up in this area and were allegedly completed about three weeks ago.
- Another runway which was believed to be located southeast of Peenemuende could not be seen.
